Why Equity ETF?

- ▶ Ease of transaction - Can be easily bought / sold like any other stock on the exchange through terminals spread across the country
- ▶ Ease of Liquidity - Can be bought / sold anytime during market hours (subject to availability of buyer/seller) at prices prevailing in the market. Thus, investor transacts at real-time prices.
- ▶ Low Cost - Generally less expensive than investing in multiple individual securities
- ▶ Other Special Features
  - Instant diversification through exposure to a large number of stocks by purchasing as low as 1 unit
  - Buying / selling at close to live price and not end-of-day, also ability to put limit orders
  - Authorised Participants/ Market Makers/ Large investors can buy directly from the AMC at Live Prices in creation unit sizes^

Strategies used through Index based Equity ETFs

- ▶ Liquidity Management - ETFs can be used for a given percentage of each asset class to provide a liquidity buffer across the asset allocation
- ▶ Portfolio Completion - ETFs allow investors to gain exposure to an asset class that is under-represented in the asset allocation
- ▶ Cash Equitization - ETFs assist in remaining fully invested into equity as per the allocation model, while maintaining liquidity, thus minimizing the cash drag effect on the portfolio
- ▶ Portfolio Transitions - Since ETFs are passive funds, they may help maintain market exposure while there are changes in sector/stock allocations in a portfolio, hence avoids the risk of missing any market movement

Note: The performance of the scheme shall be benchmarked to the Total Return (TRI) variant of the Index chosen as a benchmark

Why Invest in the Dividend Theme?

The advantage of investing in high dividend companies is that the investment offers the investor to capture both, the market movement as well as the dividends, thereby generating efficient returns in a risk adjusted manner through value stock investing.

Dividends are a great way with aim to build your long-term wealth. As witnessed in the developed countries, the dividend income forms a major part of the overall returns provided by the stock markets. India is still in its developing phase and this makes the Indian stock markets even more attractive as an investment avenue. Over the period, the investments made today may reap great returns.

- ▶ Income based value to Portfolio: Dividends can be a source of alternate income to the shareholders, hence companies that pay dividends can be wise investments, especially if you hold the stock over a long period. Even if the price per share of your stock doesn't go up much every year, you may still make money from the dividend payments, you don't have to sell your shares to get that money. Investing in dividend paying stocks can be a good investment strategy, if you want to earn through regular dividend income.
- ▶ Capital Gains and Passive Income: When you add the dividend into the price appreciation, you may have an option to enjoy not only current income, but growth too. The reason dividend-paying stocks are so powerful is because they combine the two most important aspects of wealth generation i.e. Capital Gains and Passive Income i.e. Dividend. One way to identify high dividend paying stocks is by using dividend yield as a guide. Dividend yield tells you what percentage the stock returns relative to its price.

Why is dividend important?

A successful company—one which earns real money every year has three options:

- ▶ It can reinvest those earnings into the company to make new products, find more customers, build new stores or factories, or make the business more efficient
- ▶ It can buy back its stock so that each remaining share owns more of the company
- ▶ It can return some of that money to shareholders in the form of Dividends

Dividends speak a lot about the company, a company paying high dividends regularly indicates a lot of things:

- ▶ Company is doing well
  - When a company is doing well, the net profit rises. Dividends are paid from the company's net profit. Also, dividends are the ultimate form of transparency - returning the cash to the people that own it i.e. the shareholders. Thus, dividends are one of the important signs of the health of a company
- ▶ Company is confident of consistent growth
  - Dividend payouts, especially increasing dividend payouts, reflect management's confidence in the sustainability of cash flow generation
- ▶ Company believes in sharing profits with shareholders regularly
  - Mature, well-established companies that faithfully provide earnings to shareholders have a reputation to keep up. When a company makes a commitment to provide profits to shareholders on an ongoing and consistent basis, it builds character and that commitment to being friendly to shareholders is one few companies like to break. Thus, dividends can be a steady source of alternate income to shareholders
- ▶ Company likely to outperform the broader market
  - Historically, dividend-paying stocks also perform better than the overall market during times in which stock prices are weak. Since stocks that pay dividends are generally more conservative and have stronger cash flows than those that do not, investors tend to gravitate toward dividend payers during times of trouble
